Getting the Best out of People

THIRD SECTOR

46% of respondents are less than satisfied with communications infrastructure in an environment when modernisation could reduce costs, improve facilities and make way for digital transformation

Recruitment. Hybrid working. Pay Systems. Training staff. Engaging employees. The Third Sector has often struggled more than other sectors at managing staff. But, as the call for better public services increases, HR teams are under new pressure to think digitally and use technology to better engage their staff whilst raising funds and leveraging their workforce better than ever before. HR teams need digital tools that can lead to better communication within the workplace, satisfying its most valuable workers and supporting the day to day workflow. But how can Charities keep up with the fast-evolving digital age?

Bringing People Together

It all starts with communication. Communication within any successful HR department needs to flow easily and tick like clockwork. HR need to be communicating proactively in order to provide their staff with information on issues such as appraisals, training or pay. HR teams need an all-inclusive communications platform to motivate and engage staff, as well as enhancing productivity and innovation across pools of talent.

So what are the solutions? Unified Communications

Unified communications is a suite of technologies that can powerfully support the effective exchange of information, centralising the management of all communication channels within the Third Sector. It lets users communicate in flexible and intuitive ways, and is well known for increasing productivity and improving collaboration.

What are the Benefits of Unified Communications for HR?

- Connect with staff, donors and stakeholders in real-time, wherever they are
- Support behaviour change so staff can deliver services effectively
- Manage and explore a range of communications channels so colleagues have the opportunity to have their views heard and responded to
- Extend their range of influence beyond the traditional HR relationship

Less than 50% were confident that their telephone infrastructure wasn't a barrier to estate rationalisation in supporting flexible remote working.

Communications Connecting the Third Sector

Opus is one of the few remaining independent and privately-owned communications providers in the UK. Providing high quality services and solutions to the Third Sector, Opus can provide advice and tailor solutions to meet the specific needs of HR teams.

With Opus Unifed Communications solution, you can:

Look Who's Talking

Enjoy the richness of high quality video communication and see who you are speaking to for better, simpler and more intuitive discussions.

Shrink Your Inbox

Unified Communications equals a management inbox. Say goodbye to pages of unread messages. Enjoy the ease and speed of IM and get your questions answered directly from the right person or exchange information quickly and instantaneously.

Choose How You Communicate

Unified Communications (UC) technologies means you can use any device you like, from any location and still get hold of the right person at the right time.

Work Wherever You Choose

With Unified Communications (UC), you can work with someone as efficiently as if they were sat next to you. Let your colleague/business partner remotely see your desktop and documents.
